

ELOPES WITH A MARRIED MAN

Mary Finney, Age 15, and William Bennetfield, Age
33, Flee Together.

Girl Made Other Attempts That Were Frustrated by Step-Father.

Miss Mary Finney, the fifteen-year-old step-daughter of John Edwards, 530 North Sexton street, left about 7:30 o'clock Monday morning for parts unknown, accompanied by William M. Bennetfield, a married man who came here several months ago from Greensburg. The girl's mother is heart broken over the affair and the step-father and Deputy Prosecutor Kiplinger have notified the police in all of the surrounding cities and towns to be on the lookout for the couple. It is thought that the pair left this city over the Big Four, going north. No traces of them have as yet been secured. Bennetfield is a painter by trade, but for some time had been employed on the Winship farm, south of town. He is thirty-three years old. The Edwards family resided on the Capp farm south of town and it was there that she first met Bennetfield about five months ago. Bennetfield abandoned his wife, it is said, six weeks ago. She is now at Greensburg.

Several attempts had been made by the girl to leave home secretly, with one or two other young men, but they were frustrated by the father, who resorted to locking her in a room. The girl refused to heed all parental pleadings and advice and yesterday morning when Bennetfield came to the house, during the absence of the step-father, assisted the girl with the work of packing her clothes, she deliberately bid goodbye to her mother and left the house in spite of her mother's tears and agony.

Sunday she left the house with Bennetfield, but returned, having temporarily abandoned the proposed elopement. The couple said something about going to Richmond or Greensburg, but they have not been located at either of these places.

A telephone message to Greensburg today failed to elicit much concerning Bennetfield, except that he is thought to have come originally from Westport. He has been a married man for about nine years.

The girl seems to have been madly in love with him. She made an attempt to elope with him three weeks ago. The girl's step-father intends to hand both of them over to the authorities in case they are apprehended.

He is well aware that the couple cannot marry as Bennetfield has no divorce.

"I have experienced many things during my life," said the girl's mother yesterday evening as she sobbed bitterly. "but this is the worst that I have ever been called upon to deal with. Mary was fifteen years old on the 26th of last month and she had worn long dresses scarcely two months. She claimed that her step-father was cruel to her, but I will take oath that he never struck her or abused her in any way. She was simply determined to marry. We treated Bennetfield as a friend and allowed him to come to the house, never dreaming of the trouble we have had during the last three weeks. Mary was given to keeping late hours. The other night she came in late and I gave her a good slapping. I never was deceived as I have been in this. It seems that they had some system of writing notes and leaving them under a rock in front of the house. I tried to keep my girl in the house, and tried to watch her, but the minute I stepped out of the house, she was out and gone. It was impossible to keep her locked up all of the time."

The girl has auburn hair, a fair complexion, and although she could hardly be called comely, she is far from bad looking. She wore a brown skirt, a pink waist and a white hat when she left yesterday. She is about five feet two inches in height, and weighs about one hundred and ten pounds.

Bennetfield is about five feet, four inches in height, smooth shaven, and possesses a youthful appearance for one of his age. He wore a dark colored suit and a derby hat when he left yesterday.

The girl's mother this afternoon accidentally discovered one of Bennetfield's letters to the girl, telling her of his "undying love" for her, that he "would go through fire and water" for her, that he would take her on "that trip he promised" in August, and that he would bring her back as his wife. The letter was five pages in length.

JOHN DURRELL'S GREWSOME FIND

Skeleton of a Man is Unearthed on the Philips
Farm.

The Greensburg Graphic says: John Durrell while plowing on his farm, southwest of Rushville, a few days ago, turned up the head of a skeleton. On further investigation an entire skeleton was unearthed. It was that of a man who apparently was buried in a sitting position and was found on the top of a hill near the site of a pioneer cabin. The find was made on what was formerly known as the old Phillips farm.

MRS. NORWOOD M'ILWAIN DEAD

Former Richland Resident
Passes Away at Kansas City.

Monday's Greensburg News says: "Taylor F. Meek received a telegram this morning announcing the death of his sister, Mrs. Tina McIlwain, at their home in Kansas City, Sunday night at 9 o'clock. The friends left Kansas City with the remains this afternoon at 2 o'clock and should arrive here tomorrow (Tuesday) morning at 5:40 o'clock. They will then be taken overland to Richland in Rush county for interment."

The deceased was about eighty years of age and had been sick for some time past, so that the news of her death was no surprise to the friends here. Mrs. McIlwain with her husband and family resided in Richland for many years, in fact had spent the most of her life in the north end of this and in the south portion of Rush county, till their removal to Kansas City a few years ago."

CHURCH NEWS

+The frescoers have arrived to begin work on the new U. P. church.

+Rev. P. H. Rowan, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church, has gone to St. Louis, Mo., to be present when the new organ, recently purchased by the young men of the church, is installed. This organ will probably be installed here within the next two weeks.

+The Junior League of St. Paul's M. E. church will give a picnic tomorrow in Frame's woods, east of the city. Those who intend to go will assemble at the home of Mrs. Rush G. Budd, on North Harrison street at 9:30 a. m. This picnic will close the Junior League year. The work has been very successful this year under the leadership of Mrs. Budd, Misses Opal O'Brien and Miles Cox.

One of the natural curiosities of South Africa is the "sneezewind" tree, which is so called because one can not cut it with a saw without sneezing, as the fine dust has exactly the effect of snuff. Even in planing the wood it will sometimes cause sneezing. No insect or worm will touch it; it is very bitter to the taste, and when placed in water it sinks.

THE WOMAN IN POLITICS

Mrs. Gertrude Hunt, Socialist, Delivers Address on Street Corner.

She Says Women Suffer More Than Men From Evils of Mis-Government.

Mrs. Gertrude Breslau Hunt, a prominent Socialist and Y. M. C. A. worker, of Chicago, and formerly a newspaper reporter on the New York World, arrived in this city yesterday. Standing upon a box she addressed a crowd of some two hundred and fifty people last night at the corner of Main and Second streets.

In the course of her remarks, Mrs. Hunt discussed woman's part in politics. In part she said:

"Women suffer even more acutely than men from all the evils growing out of a capitalist system of production, the private ownership and operation of the public means of life; hunger and cold in the door ways almost of bursting granaries and warehouses, war, crime, strikes, enforced idleness of strong men and enforced toil of tender children, the making of womanhood an asset of great industries, where overworked and underpaid women are crowded into a life of sin, ignorance, preventable disease, adulterated food and poisoned drinks, the exploitation and servitude of the toilers, their homeliness, anxiety; the degradation of marriage where money is its basis instead of mutual love and respect."

"It is thought by some that women should not be interested in politics, but women are half the race, mothers of the race and stewards of racial progression. If by politics is meant a corrupt deal between the public service corporation privately owned, the practical politician and the purchasable voter, then no man or woman either should be in such infamous deals, but if you mean the collective effort to give the ownership and management of the collective means of life, to abolish the wrongs and secure to all the right to industrial freedom and to the wealth they produce, then no man or woman has any right to stay out of this great work. The Socialist party stands for the collective ownership and management of the means of life—equal political and industrial liberty for men and women and when we have this all these evils must disappear. To sum up every interest of woman would lead her into this great cause socialising our means of life. Woman's interest as a citizen as a worker—five million women are toiling in the United States today in mills, stores and factories, as a human being, above all as a mother, for until we own our means of life and the wealth we produce we cannot protect our children from toil, robbery, disease and adulterated food, crime, greed, war and poverty. When woman takes her part in this work the race will enter into its heritage of justice and brotherhood for which ages of pain have taught us how to have and to hold."

Mrs. Hunt was born in Chicago. Her father, James Cushman Breslau, was an artist and served as war artist and correspondent for Greeley's New York Tribune for several years. Her mother, Melissa Breslau was a gifted actress whose "Lucretia Borgia," "Leah" and "Lady Macbeth" are remembered by old time patrons of dramatic art. When Mrs. Breslau was three months old, her father died, and at the age of five she was separated from her mother, and taken to a farm home in Northern Iowa, where she grew up ignorant of her name and early history. At sixteen she began teaching school and about this time began sending modest contributions to the papers and magazines. Though being reared in a very conservative household and orthodox community, her rebel tendencies began to show very early in the study of free trade, woman's suffrage, tax reform and the temperance question. She went to Chicago in 1893, the year before the great railroad strike, and during the following year she secured a glimpse of the vital problem of labor. She became a close student of Social Economy and shortly thereafter began to speak of what she had seen and her hopes and convictions. She joined the Socialist party, was an active member of the woman's alliance of the Socialist party, and was a delegate to the Illinois State convention. In 1904, she was the nominee on the Socialist ticket for University trustee, and during the campaign addressed large meetings in Ohio, Indiana, Wisconsin and Illinois. As a dramatic reader and impersonator, Mrs. Hunt has acceptably filled many engagements for colleges, literary clubs, churches and other organizations.

She will speak on the court house corner again this evening on the subject, "Ten Objections to Socialism Answered."

FINLEY M'GUIRE PASSES AWAY

Popular Young Man Suc-
combs to Tuberculosis
After Long Illness.

Was Engaged to Marry—Funeral
Thursday at Presbyterian Church.

Finley Pugh McGuire, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. McGuire, who had been suffering from tuberculosis for some time, passed away at the home of his parents on North Morgan street early this morning.

Mr. McGuire's condition yesterday was such that all hope was abandoned and death was expected at any time. It was not thought that he could live through the day.

It was about 1 o'clock that his spirit journeyed across the river to that eternal resting place which awaits us all. His relatives were gathered about the bedside when the end came. Death was due to tuberculosis of the throat.

All through his illness the young man suffered intensely, but he bore the pain in silence, and although he knew the end was approaching, he remained cheerful until the last.

Mr. McGuire was taken ill shortly after his return from Paris, France, where from April, 1897, to September, 1898, he served as private secretary to Consul General Gowdy. Prior to his service with Mr. Gowdy, he was private secretary to Congressman Henry, at Washington, and after his return from Paris he became private secretary to Congressman Watson.

At the time of his death, Mr. McGuire held a position with a government official at Phoenix, Arizona. He was also connected with the Illinois Steel Corporation at one time.

Mr. McGuire was born in this city July 13th, 1877, and had he lived until the 13th of next month he would have been twenty-nine years of age.

Last November he came to this city and underwent an operation from which he never fully recovered, having taken cold on the trip to and from Phoenix. He steadily declined and returned to this city about six weeks ago. Most of the time since his arrival here he had been, confined to his bed.

Mr. McGuire was engaged to marry a prominent young lady residing in California. When he left Phoenix for his city, she begged him to allow her to accompany him. He, however, would not hear of it.

Mr. McGuire was a most estimable young man. A brilliant future no doubt awaited him. He was of a very kind and genial disposition, generous, patient and self sacrificing. He was a young man of zeal and energy and always succeeded at everything he undertook. It was an honor and a pleasure to meet him. No young man in Rushville had more friends and their visits were a source of joy to him during his last illness.

The funeral service will be held Thursday afternoon at the First Presbyterian church, conducted by Rev. T. H. McConnell pastor, assisted by Rev. V. W. Tevis, pastor of St. Paul's M. E. church. Interment will be at East Hill cemetery.

—Mrs. Earl Overston, of Wabash, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Coverston, for the past few days, returned home today.

DEAD AT FOOT OF A SLOPE

Mrs. Louis Voiles, Killed While
Looking For Her Child.

[Special to the Daily Republican.]

Greensburg, Ind., June 12.—Mrs. Louis Voiles, twenty-two years old, was found dead in Sand creek, at the foot of a forty-foot embankment, near the stone quarries, at Harris City, last evening. She was seen in the vicinity alive not ten minutes before her body was found. Her husband is employed at the quarry, and as he approached the stone steps leading up the embankment he found his three-year-old son on the steps, crying, and the lad sobbed out that his mother was in the water. Bruises on the head and limbs indicated that Mrs. Voiles was dead before she struck the water. It is supposed that while looking for her son she slipped and fell, fatally injuring herself, and then rolled into the water. She was the mother of two small children.

OTTO M'COMB IS ARRESTED

With Apparent Pride Says He Aided in Taking Possession of a Train.

This morning's Indianapolis Star says: "Otto H. (Fish) McComb, of Kokomo, who with Pete Ryan, an iron worker, took possession of a freight train at Connersville on the night of June 1st, and at the point of a revolver ordered the train crew to take them to Rushville, was arrested early last night at the West Washington Street Show Grounds by Detectives Simon and Hauser on a charge of loitering. Thomas Jackson, of Nashville, Tenn., who was with McComb at the show grounds, was arrested on a similar charge."

Arrested first on suspicion, McComb was later recognized from a description furnished the detectives and after a "sweating" by Acting Captain C. A. Manning, admitted his identity and with an apparent show of pride pulled a newspaper clipping from his hat, and admitted that he was with Ryan at the time.

The two men are said to have surprised the train crew with a revolver after terrorizing persons in the depot, and to have ordered the crew to "pull her out." The wild ride ended at Rushville, where, after being pursued by a posse, Ryan was captured early the next morning.

At the time it was not given out that McComb had been with Ryan, but his description was sent to the various police departments of the country and the local police had been on the lookout for him since that time.

McComb will probably be taken to Connersville today."

WANTS $2,000 FOR BEING BITTEN BY DOG

Suit for $2,000 growing out of a dog bite, has been filed in the Wayne circuit court by Attorneys Medsker and Medsker, of Cambridge City, representing William H. Ervin vs. Alice Elliott and Mary Hoover. The defendants reside near Cambridge City. Ervin is a Cambridge City junk dealer. It is alleged that the defendants on May 1, 1906, were the owners of a large and vicious dog of fierce and dangerous nature, to go unsecured. The plaintiff says, through no fault of his, he was bitten by the aforesaid dog, on the left leg, and was damaged to the extent of $2,000.

Mr. Ervin was treated by the Bundy madstone and the wound was benefited after the stone had adhered about twenty hours.

CHERRY PICKING TIME IS HERE

Trees are All Heavily Laden—
Big Crop Being Gathered.

The cherry crop this season is one of the largest in the history of the fruit in this county. A tree of any size at all can claim credit for a least five gallons of cherries and some trees of the larger variety will have as many as twenty gallons. The limbs of many of the trees are bending as a result of the weight.

Many are picking their cherries at the present time and by the middle of next week all cherries must be picked or they will be too ripe.

The suggestion is made that Democrats should be very careful about turning Boss Taggart down. Republican success is assured so long as he controls the destiny of the Democratic party. Under present prosperous conditions and the splendid administration of affairs in the State and nation, why not guarantee the future by continuing Smiling Tom where he is doing Republicanism and his country so much good?

The first and the dominant feature in the Democrat State platform is the endorsement of Bryan in 1908. The year 1908 is a long way off, politically speaking, and it is not unlikely the State organization which at heart is against Bryan, has encouraged this step to more firmly entrench itself in the hearts of the Bryanites now, well aware that American enthusiasm for a political leader is more apt to wane than to increase in force in the intervening two years.

The platform is neither so clear nor so positive as the Republican platform in its advocacy of proper control of trusts. It follows in the wake of the Republican platform in advocating two-cent fare, public depositories and regulation of insurance companies. It goes even further, and would regulate express and telegraph companies, but is silent as to freight and telephone rates. The platform is brief—very brief. In fact there are few points upon which any great number of Democrats can agree.

Unlike the Republican platform there is no endorsement of the splendid debt-paying and law-enforcing policies of the recent State administration, or the economical management or improved conditions of our State institutions—practical matters which benefit every citizen of Indiana. Nor does their platform advocate house-cleaning, nor more stringent anti-gambling laws. It is also silent on such burning national issues as the Republicans endorse, viz.: Regulation of railways, enforcement of anti-trust laws, and commendation of President Roosevelt and others for what they have done and are doing along those lines; praise for the material, moral and intellectual growth in Porto Rico and the Philippines, approval of the construction of the Panama canal, and firm adherence to the doctrine of protection, which in all our commercial and industrial experiences has proven to be wise.

Only ninety-seven cases of smallpox were reported during the month, and no deaths resulted from the disease. In the corresponding month last year 151 cases were reported, with four deaths. Deaths from tuberculosis of all forms numbered 411.

Washington, June 12.—The house committee on agriculture was locked in its room with the Beveridge beef inspection amendment for six hours Monday. When the session ended at 5:30 o'clock members said they had agreed to observe strict secrecy regarding what had been done. There was a general statement, however, that "nothing had been done finally."

Panic Among Land Owners.
St. Petersburg, June 12.—The panic among the land owners is manifested by the increased offerings of land to the agrarian banks, which together with the attacks of Pro. Hertzstein and other members of parliament and the favoritism shown to the landlords, has resulted in a slump in the shares of land banks on the bourse, demoralizing the entire market.

IT IS NOW "OF AGE" IT WILL COME OUT

National Editorial Association Is Twenty-One Years Old.

BIG MEETING THIS WEEK

Annual Convention of This Interesting Body Will Be Given a Warm Welcome at Indianapolis.

Formal Business Sessions Will Be Followed by a Comprehensive Tour of the State.

Indianapolis, June 12.—This evening at 8 o'clock the twenty-first annual convention of the National Editorial association will open at the Claypool hotel. This hotel will be the headquarters and the convention meetings will be held here. President John Dymond arrived last night. Word has been received that the Washington and Oregon delegations are delayed, owing to a washout in Montana.

This first meeting will be in the nature of a welcome to the city and the state, and addresses will be made by Governor Hanly, Mayor Bookwalter, Hilton U. Brown and W. B. Westlake. The response will be given by past President P. V. Collins of Minneapolis. The evening's program includes, also, musical selections.

According to J. B. Whitehead, secretary of the Indiana Allied Editorial association, who has the active management of the details of the meeting in charge, everything is in readiness for receiving the four hundred odd delegates that will be here until Saturday morning. On Wednesday, Thursday and Friday there will be meetings—morning, afternoon and evening. Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock the delegates will be entertained by Vice President and Mrs. Fairbanks, assisted by James Whitcomb Riley, George Ade and Meredith Nicholson.

Two newspaper governors will be present at the meeting, E. W. Hoch, governor of Kansas, and John A. Johnson, governor of Minnesota. Governor Hoch will read a paper Thursday afternoon on the subject, "The Country Editor, by One of Them." Governor Johnson is the publisher of the Herald at St. Peter, Minn. Thursday morning Senator Beveridge will read a paper on "Journalism."

After the meetings in Indianapolis have been concluded, the editors will leave for a tour of the state, stopping at Terre Haute, Linton, Bedford, French Lick, where they will be entertained by Thomas Taggart, thence to Lafayette, Peru, Marion, Warsaw and Winona. From Winona the party will start on a trip through the great lakes, the St. Lawrence river and part of Canada, coming back to Detroit, where the party disbands July 3.

EDITOR OUT OF JAIL
Fred Purdy's Durand Ends by Technical Limitation.

Indianapolis, June 12.—Fred L. Purdy, publisher of the Sun, has been released from the custody of the Marion county sheriff by order of Criminal Judge Fremont Alford, the court holding that further detention of the publisher under the sentence and commitment of the court would be illegal.

Judge Alford held that the superior court erred in permitting Mr. Purdy to have liberty on bail during the execution of a sentence fixed by the criminal court, declaring that there is no bail law in the state under which such release might be effected. The court said it was clear that Mr. Purdy had served only about ten days of the thirty days' sentence imposed, but that he was out illegally, and the court could not go beyond the commitment, which ceased of effect with the expiration of the thirty days fixed in the sentence.

Mayor and Police Board Not in Accord.
Kokomo, Ind., June 12.—The police commissioners are insisting on a quiet observance of the Fourth, and have instructed the police to prevent the use of explosives. Meanwhile Mayor Brouse has ordered that "horse sense" be used in enforcing the laws against the use of explosives on the Fourth, and this has provoked a controversy, more especially as President Gerhart of the police board has taken exceptions to the mayor's remarks.

Great Gasser Going to Waste.

Parkersburg, W. Va., June 12.—Eighteen million feet of natural gas are being consumed each day by a fire at the little town of Burnt House in Ritchie county. The flames are rising 500 feet in the air and the great fountain of fire at night lights the surrounding country. The column of fire is watched by thousands. The well was drilled in last Friday, and the tremendous pressure made it impossible to cap the hole. Several hundred workmen were endeavoring to stop the flow when they saw a thunderstorm approaching. Hardly had they quit when a flash of lightning ignited the gas.

CATARRH FROM CHILDHOOD

Cured by Hyomei, the Only Medicine for Catarrh That F. B. Johnson & Co. are Willing to Guarantee.

The popularity and growth of Hyomei are unique in the annals of medicine. The demand for the Hyomei outfit and the extra bottles in Rushville has been something phenomenal, and F. B. Johnson & Co. say that they have never sold any other remedy which gave such universal satisfaction and made so many remarkable cures.

The worst and most chronic cases of catarrh readily yield to the use of Hyomei. People who have suffered from childhood have been cured by this remedy. J. S. Nugent, treasurer of the American Union Insurance Co., New York City, writes: "Hyomei has completely cured my daughter of catarrh, from which she had been suffering for years."

So many remarkable results have attended the use of Hyomei amongst the customers of F. B. Johnson & Co., that they feel justified in using the strongest possible language in speaking of its virtues, and when you read that they sell it under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure, you will see that they fully believe in its curative powers. A complete outfit costs only one dollar, extra bottles 50 cents.
